

Career Network

Who could you consider to be part of your career and personal network? These are people and/or organizations that might offer one or more of the following:

- You are comfortable talking to them
- They may have more life experience than you
- They can keep you on task if you need it
- They would be willing to be in touch regularly during this time
- They have your trust
- They have appropriate or important career-related connections
- They care about your success
- They are well known in a field you are considering
- They may be in a position to offer you a foot in the door for an entry level job or internship

List people you consider part of your network below. For each contact, list a phone number and/or email address.
